WARSAW UNIVERSITY OF LIFE SCIENCES – SGGW

STUDY IN ENGLISH

WHY?

The aim of this two-year program is to provide students with broad academic knowledge and to develop skills in preparation for careers in the dynamic global business environment. Graduates of the program will be equipped for corporate careers, positions in government and for starting and running their own businesses.

Because it is the language of global business and international politics and contemporary affairs, all classes will be taught in English.

First MEO then CEO

WHAT?

An ability to fully understand all workings of local and global economies are essential for leaders in both public and private sectors. A good knowledge of the impacts which different economic policies, competitive strategies and consumer behaviors have on companies and their environment provides managers with competitive edge. The MEO program addresses these and many other issues. The curriculum provides students with a solid background in economic and organizational theories and familiarizes them with best practices in business and governmental institutions.

WHO?

The MEO program is designed for those with a questioning mind, a good intellect and strong analytical skills. Graduates are expected to be able to have the capacity to analyze business and economic problems and to devise new strategies and solutions.

MEO - your chance to practice being a CEO

HOW?

The concepts of traditional business courses will be set within a global context. Innovative teaching methods, including management simulations and case studies of best business practices, will be employed. Instructors will also incorporate groundbreaking research into classes. The courses will be led by leading professionals not only from the Faculty of Economic Sciences but also from other universities as well as businesses and government institutions. Whether in small discussion groups or in class, always an active involvement will be demanded from students, allowing them to learn not only from the lectures, but also from each other.
